Additional thoughts/comments

As a former smoker I can understand how addicting cigarettes can be. I have also experienced how devastating it is to loose a family member or friend to smoking. Smoking, and even more so vaping starts at a young age. We need to continue to fight this battle together to educate and prevent the preventable deaths in the U.S. caused by smoking/vaping.

Additional thoughts/comments:

With childhood obesity on the rise it will be important to implement these policies. Wellness needs to be taken seriously by the children and most importantly their guardians. Overeating is a very tough habit to break, and it starts in the home at the schools at a very young age. I was a an overweight child it made everything difficult. Wellness, understanding healthy coping methods, and having a Growth Mindset are key.
